Liminal Spaces

August 22 - September 22

Reception: Friday, August 26, 5 - 8:00 pm

Loss, healing, Mexican-American heritage, and human relationships shape the body of Katrina Davis-Salazar's highly narrative work. She expresses conflict of emotions through exploration of color and texture. Davis-Salazar's double-voiced identity visually captures both inner conflict and profound human strength and leads to imagery that is at once funny, uneasy, and delicate. In addition to teaching fine art at the College of Lake County, Katrina Davis-Salazar is the Community Art and Engagement Coordinator for the college. Don't miss the engaging work of this celebrated local artist.
